Through long term, mutually beneficial partnerships that provide real value and points of difference, our team is focused on generating positive category and sales growth to you.

Our success is built on the following foundations:

- A passionate team that strives for excellence
- Outstanding customer service
- Honesty and integrity in every interaction
- Quality, affordability and innovation in our product offer

our services

As a wholesale importer/exporter, we are experts in the process of designing and sourcing goods and delivering them to your customers. Tango Group opens up our resources to support our retail partners through all supply chain and sale processes. We have highly dedicated teams across the following departments ready to assist.

Sales and Merchandising - a national and in-field sales team work closely with buyers and retailers to identify opportunities and execute in store

Sourcing and Buying - Highly knowledgeable buyers travel internationally to source products that are sure to appeal to your customers

Marketing and Design - Inhouse Creative Team experienced in activating both Tango branded offers as well as retailer specific opportunities and projects

Customer Service - Our dedicated team are on hand to provide administrative support to our customers

Warehousing and Logistics - Fully equipped onsite warehouse and logistics team

our sourcing capabilities

We keep an extensive range of products in our Melbourne warehouse ready for immediate delivery but also offer ex works shipment from Melbourne, FCL Direct and FOB services to accommodate your requirements. Tango Group maintain strong relationships with our international supply partners to ensure we secure and deliver the best quality products available at the very best price. We also have shipments departing weekly from our factories which allows greater flexibility in delivering your products into your premises in both an efficient and cost-effective manner.

product development

Private label sourcing, product development and packaging is a major part of the Tango business. In addition to our branded offers, our sales team work together with large retailers to source and develop exclusive product lines for their customers. We stay abreast of current domestic and international market trends and work closely with our inhouse creative team to execute your bespoke product requirements whilst placing emphasis on ethical sourcing practices and quality control. Tango can work with you on an effective supply solution direct from our overseas factory floor to your premises in Australia.

We leverage our established and trusted relationships and efficient sourcing and logistics processes to great benefit to our retail partners, delivering you peace of mind.

creative team

We have a talented inhouse Creative Department capable of designing products and branding with clear strategic thinking that results in strong on-shelf presence and concise packaging hierarchy.

Our team can conduct a market audit and provide recommendations on route to market that will deliver standout brand positioning and a point of difference that allows for cut through communication in a busy market.

Functionality is a core requirement for any product but it is the human connection delivered through a brand's purpose that results in a truly competitive advantage.

our brands

Our brands are the heroes at Tango Group International. We are passionate about our products and our brands are central to what we're striving to achieve.

We have three main brands that each have a distinct focus on supplying quality goods with specific functionality to enrich and compliment the lifestyle of consumers.
